Tirta Wangi Spa

Tirta Wangi Spa is named for the water features in the garden of the spa. Tirta means 'holy water' in Balinese, and wangi means 'fragrant', a reference to the heady scent of spices used in the spa treatments. The spa villa is situated near the reception building of Komaneke Tanggayuda, among luscious tropical gardens, creating an atmosphere of tranquility and fresh air. A Jacuzzi pool is sheltered under a pretty Balinese pavilion in the garden courtyard.

Tirta Wangi Spa was designed as a luxurious sanctuary with a villa concept. Professional staff provide healing and beauty treatments such as facials, traditional massage, and body scrubs, drawing on ancient Indonesian herbal recipes. Tirta Wangi Spa offers a variety of natural products, including luxurious Babor spa products, augmented by the peaceful ambience of the resort's mature gardens. The spa also has a salon for beauty treatments and a steam bath, as well as changing rooms, showers, and safety deposit boxes.

Tirta Wangi Spa is not limited to in-house guests only, but is open to anyone wishing solitude, ample space, and complete privacy in these rejuvenating treatments.
